Columbia Imagined
The Plan for How We Live & Grow

Columbia Imagined, the city of Columbia's new comprehensive plan, will provide common guidelines for citizens and decision makers in determining the city's future growth. It will influence our neighborhoods and public places, development, job creation, transportation options, and the overall vitality of our community.

- Find out about our Task Force.
- Learn about our plan development process.
- Read a draft of the Columbia Imagined Plan and appendix \(Updated April 26, 2013\)
- Take the survey

In early 2012, community meetings were conducted as well as online and printed surveys utilized, that asked community members to identify some of their favorite aspects of living in Columbia.

Participants were also asked for input concerning issues that affect our growth and development. The top issues identified include:
Transportation, Jobs & Economic Development, Health Care, Community Safety, Housing, Neighborhoods/Quality of Life, Education, Use of Space, Community Participation, Downtown, Recreation, Managing Change

Click here to see the results of the favorites and issue mapping exercises.

Building upon earlier discussions, public meetings were held in April and May, where community members were asked to set goals for the plan and identify specific objectives related to the 12 top issues identified as affecting growth and development. After reviewing nearly 500 goals and 1,000 objectives, a list of the top 35 were identified.

These 35 specific goals and accompanying objectives will be used in preparing the written draft of Columbia Imagined.

There's still a lot of work to be done before Columbia Imagined is submitted to the Planning and Zoning Commission for approval and to the City Council for public hearings and final adoption.

Columbia Parks and Recreation The parklet was installed in honor of Bike, Walk and Wheel Week this week. Since this is a new concept for Columbia, we decided to install it on a trial basis to see how it was received. The structure of it is really intended to be temporary, so we can... See More

Robin Callaway Love this but hate that it's so frivolous! Why can't you just leave it? Why must it be removed? One week is hardly enough time for most to enjoy. The labor to take it down is a cost, use that money to water & weed this parklet and put the surplus back in the budget for other beautification projects.

Columbia Parks and Recreation Robin, thanks for the comment! The reason for installing the parklet in the first place was just for the week in honor of Bike, Walk and Wheel Week. Also, since the parklet is a new idea, we had no idea how it would be received. We've had overwhelming positive response so far, so that answers that question for us!
