New Shelter Under Construction at Cosmo Park

Columbia Parks and Recreation is building a new shelter with a familiar name at Cosmo Park.

The reconstruction of Harris Shelter is taking place in the southwest corner of the park. Harris Shelter had originally been located near the Antimi Sports Complex. However, the shelter was removed to make room for the expansion of the athletic fields. Instead of rebuilding the shelter in that area, it was decided to relocate Harris to a less congested area of Cosmo.

The new shelter will be 25' by 45' in size and will feature an 80-car parking lot. A vegetative screen will be constructed along the park boundary to enhance appearance and serve as a buffer for highway noise.

The cost of the shelter and parking lot is $164,041 in parks sales tax funding.
