

Volunteer of the month

by volunteer Annie L. Schulte

The August volunteers of the month, Maria Cox and Bob Jett, provide their volunteer time to the Community Emergency Response Team (CERT).

CERT volunteers provide local disaster assistance. Cox and Jett have been involved with CERT since its 2003 inception and currently supervise two response teams for the Columbia Fire Department. These teams have helped at local engagements, including Twilight Festivals, Salute to Veterans Air Show, First Night and Mizzou sporting events.

Recently they were part of coordinating the Missouri River flood response sending CERT teams to Rocheport and Hartsburg.

"I've always been interested in emergency preparedness, and when the CERT program was established I jumped at the chance to be involved," explains Cox. "CERT gave me opportunities to learn emergency response skills that I use to help my community."

As leaders, Cox and Jett know it's important that they continue their own emergency response education and pass it along to their teams.

"Recently, our team was given a written First Responder State Certification test that a remarkable 100 percent of our CERT volunteers passed," said Jett.

Jett also volunteers his services to the Weather Bureau, HAM Radio.

The City of Columbia honors these individuals who have generously contributed their time and energy to our community.

Tour of Missouri rolls into Columbia

Friday, September 14, 2007

Missouri joins the rank of top international cycling venues with the inaugural Tour of Missouri. The tour, patterned after the famous Tour de France with point-to-point or stage racing, features 120 professional cyclists in 15 teams.

On Friday, Sept. 14, Stage 4 of the Tour of Missouri begins in Lebanon, Mo. The cyclists will race 128 miles toward a sprint finish at 8th and Walnut in downtown Columbia.

The competition begins in Kansas City on Sept. 11 and ends six days later in St. Louis. In between, racers will cover 600 miles of Missouri pavement, passing through 20 counties and 50 towns and cities.

Slated to be one of North America's top three professional cycling stage races, USA

Cycling and Union Cycliste Internationale have given Tour of Missouri one of the highest ratings in North America.

In addition to Kansas City and St. Louis, spectators can witness starts or finishes, and in some cases both, in Clinton, Springfield, Branson, Lebanon, Columbia, Jefferson City and St. Charles. A rolling festival accompanies the racers in the start and finish communities.

As details of the route and time schedules become available, they will be posted at www.visitcolumbiamo.com and www.tourofmissouri.com.

Council action

The Council on May 7:

- Amended Chapter 29 of the City Code as it relates to bicycle parking. The revisions do the following: change the minimum number of vehicle parking spaces needed to require bicycle parking spaces from 50 to 10; clarify credit given toward vehicle spaces for bicycle parking spaces; change terms such as "bicycle facilities" and "bicycle spaces" to "bicycle parking facilities and parking spaces"; and clarify the location of bicycle parking facilities by including employee entrances.
- Authorized an agreement with the Missouri Highways and Transportation Commission for the "Blueprint for Safer Roadways" Program. The grant funds overtime for off-duty officers to conduct special enforcement of hazardous moving violations focusing on moving violations and alcohol infractions.

The Council on May 21:

- Authorized an agreement in the amount of $110,270 with Peckham & Wright Architects Inc. for architectural services relating to construction of Fire Station No. 9. The agreement covers preparation of construction documents, bidding and construction administration for the new fire station. Funding is from the 2005 Capital 1/4 Cent Sales Tax. A public hearing for this project was held March 19.
- Authorized an agreement with the Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services for the Summer Food Service Program. The state of Missouri receives funding from the federal government to address child hunger during the summer months when children are not in school and do not have free and reduced school lunches. This contract provides funding for community-based nutrition sites for low-income children. The program is located in Douglas Park. The contract periods runs May 1 to Aug. 31.

This is just a brief look at the Council's actions. Complete minutes are available at the City Clerk's Office, 701 E. Broadway, the Columbia Public Library or on the Web at www.GoColumbiaMo.com on the City Council page.

Save Money Using Columbia Transit

Looking for an affordable, convenient, energy efficient and environmentally smart way to travel? As gas prices rise, consider Columbia Transit for your commute. Routes go all through Columbia with a variety of stop times daily during the week and evening hours and on the weekends.

According to the American Public Transportation Association, public transportation saves 1.4 billion gallons of gasoline per year and helps reduce greenhouse gases by lowering personal vehicle use.

A one-way fare is just 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, students and seniors. At www.GoColumbiaMo.com (search: GoTransportation) you can find a calculator to compare driving costs with those of bus travel. You'll also find information on schedules, routes, maps, safety and ParaTransit.

There are easy-to-use bike racks on every City bus. With The PedNet Project scheduled to begin marking new bike lanes, this feature lets riders take advantage of both programs by riding a bicycle to the bus stop and then taking the bus to their destination.

Columbia Trust

The Memorial/Heritage Tree and Bench Program is a unique way to honor a loved one. The program allows groups and individuals to donate trees or benches to commemorate special events or as memorials to loved ones to be placed on City-owned park land. Trees and benches purchased through the program are planted or placed in City parks, trails, golf courses and playgrounds. A plaque is located near the tree, and each bench includes a message. Trees are $250, and benches cost $500. To learn more about the Memorial/Heritage program, call the Parks Management Center at 874-7201.

Imagine Columbia's Future – Visioning update

The Visioning process reached a halfway point during the April Exploring the Vision Workshop. Since presenting their draft goals and strategies to the public at large, Citizen Topic Group volunteers have been working to refine the emerging vision.

Approximately 225 Citizen Topic Group members are using the summer months to conduct a Community Resources Scan. The Community Resources Scan will help identify existing community resources, initiatives and organizations that should be involved with final goals for the Vision plan and the future implementation of specific strategies. The process will clarify what community resources currently exist and whether new partnerships and private or public services will be needed to turn the Vision into reality.

In early September 2007, a Community Choices Workshop and Vision Summit will offer the public a chance to review and rank the Vision plan. The Community Choices event will also provide everyone a chance to become stewards of the Vision as it moves into adoption and implementation phases.

The exact date and location of the Community Choices Workshop will be announced in next month's City Source. For more information, visit www.GoColumbiaMO.com – click on Imagine Columbia's Future for updates.

Save water!

Up to 60 percent of all water use in the summer is outdoors on landscaping. However, one of the most common problems with landscaping is overwatering! By using water conservation techniques, you might be surprised by a better looking yard and lower water bills.

Do I need to water?

- Watering thoroughly, but infrequently, develops a deep root system so plants can use moisture and nutrients deep in the ground.
- Water according to moisture in the soil, not a fixed schedule.
- Lawns are dry when footprints remain in the grass long after being made.

How much should I water?

- Lawns need only one inch of water per week. That's about three times a week for 20 minutes.
- Use a tuna can or a rain gauge to accurately measure the amount of water your irrigation system delivers.
- Set a timer as a reminder to turn off the sprinkler.
- Water in the early morning from 6 a.m. to 8 a.m., avoiding windy conditions.

Other easy ways to conserve water outdoors

- Don't irrigate the pavement; choose and adjust sprinklers to fit the lawn area.
- Mulch to retain moisture and prevent water-robbing weeds.
- Mow grass with a sharp blade to a height of 2 ½ inches.
- Never use a hose to rinse off pavement; sweep leaves and grass clippings.
- Landscape with native plants that are tolerant to Missouri summers.

Peak Warnings

why we need your help

Peak electrical demand occurs during the hottest days of summer when electric consumption is critically high. At these times, wholesale electric prices are very high. Lowering electric demand saves Columbia Water and Light money, which helps keep your electric rates low.

During hot summer afternoons:

- Set thermostats up one or two degrees.
  - Avoid heating the kitchen – barbecue, use the microwave or prepare a cool meal.
  - Change the air conditioning/furnace filter.
  - Leave window shades that receive direct sunlight down during the day.
  - Make sure all storm windows and fireplace dampers are closed.
- Postpone until after 8 p.m.:
- Doing laundry.
  - Using automatic dishwashers and dehumidifiers.

Thank you for your help.

By dialing the city of Columbia's Community Line at 874-7650 (TTY users dial 874-7697), message 434, you can learn about tours of the Fire and Police departments.
